

MANDARIN FOR THEO (A)

Two mysterious men give a button to a walk-on actor: all he has to do in order to get rich is to press the button, even if in so doing he causes the death of a Chinese mandarin. The actor tries this and does win a large sum of money. When he finds out that one of the mysterious men is the Devil he refuses his proposals since he prefers to live just like any mortal with the girl he loves.
